Rabbit/Deer Proof Annuals

There is no guarantee that one of these plants won't end up munched down to nothing, but these are not the animals first choice in the landscape. We find that the larger/taller the plant, the less likely to be eaten! The succulent, young plants are the most susceptible.

- Begonia
- Dahlias
- Dianthus (tall types better)
- Diascia
- California Poppies
- Cleome
- Dusty Miller
- Geraniums
- Impatiens
- Marguerite Daisy
- Nicotiana
- Osteospermum
- Rudbeckia
- Salvia
- Verbena
- Statice
- Zinnia
- Vinca

We recommend that you spray beds that have rabbit/deer problems with repellants labeled for these pests.

Currently we recommend: Bobbex-R spray or Animal Stopper granules.
